

— About me —

Senior computer science student with 3.56 GPA. In pursuit of searching for a good opportunity preferably in web development to show my abilities and what I'm capable of. I have also started a youtube channel (A Goodie) that I came up with to help students within the field of technology to learn more about our major. It includes over 90 educational videos that are all clear and easy.

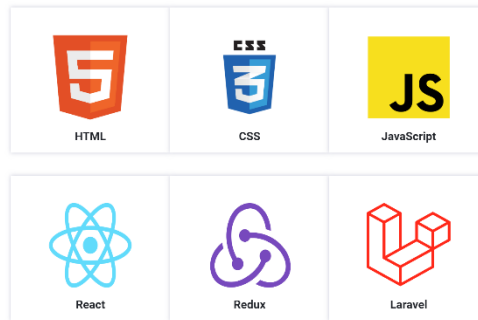

— Education and Certificates —

- HCIA-Cloud Computing
- B.Sc. Degree in Computer Science
- Full stack development - Coding Academy By Orange

— Qualifications & Skills —

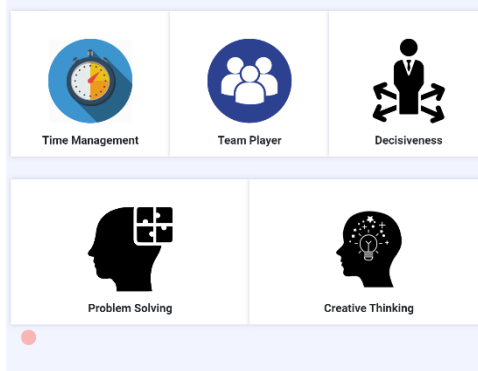

Technical Skills

I took a Web development career path on Codecademy platform plus 6 months with Coding Academy by Orange bootcamp. I keep myself updated with the latest technologies.

Personal Skills

Orange has given me the opportunity to register for their coding academy with the total amount of 100 hours of soft skills, and I also keep on improving myself with the goal of being a better version of who I was yesterday, and what's also great about Orange coding academy is they have a job coach to help you improve yourself for 6 months.
